

THE MORNING APPEAL.

TUESDAY APRIL 30

ENGLAND AND NICARAGUA

England is watching out for Nicaragua and her ultimate purpose is to control the approaches to the Nicaragua Canal. Meanwhile what is the United States doing?

Nothing up to date. Cleveland is so busy arranging the gold campaign that he pays no heed to the need of our sister republics in South America. It is for the United States to see that the foot of old world aggression is not set on any republics on this continent.

If we let Nicaragua be worsted in this controversy it means the utter abandonment of the Monroe Doctrine, and we can't afford to do this under any circumstances. The fact that Cleveland is retained by Great Britain to watch her financial interest, need not also include her interest in grabbing Nicaragua. It is possible, however, that Cleveland is retained as an all round agent for Great Britain, ready to do any thing asked of him. It is high time for the United States to wake up and look out for its interest in the new world.

This is how Governor Budd of California regards the important issue.

The United States of America should never have allowed the British marines to set foot on the Nicaraguan shore. In the beginning we should have demanded that England submit her claims to arbitration, and we should have forced her to do so. If diplomatic protests were not heeded there should have been American marines in Crinto to prevent the invasion. The Monroe Doctrine expresses the policy of the United States, as it does the sentiment of its people, and this is a violation of the spirit of that doctrine. The landing of British troops is the entering wedge; the next demand will be for a territorial indemnity for some alleged outrage. No European country can be permitted to get into a position to control the Nicaragua Canal, and it would have saved trouble in the future if our Government had drawn the line there.

The nations should have been given warning that the United States will see that its weaker sister republics receive justice, and we should stand jealously on this ground. Let a war with the United States be the consequence of aggression on this continent, and there will be no aggressions.

Slow Detectives.

A good detective seems a needed addition to the Emanuel Church murders. The police who first searched the Church seemed to have started in to do the detective work, and each Bay policeman considers himself a Javat. The prints of shoes in the dust of the belfry floor were taken, but as soon as the police found they were too large for Durrant they paid no further attention to the matter.

A suggestion has been made to take photos of the marks of the bloody finger tips the murderer left in the hallway, and by throwing them on a screen every line on them could be compared to a print of Durrant's finger tips, but the police have not considered this important. It is a curious commentary on police activity, that those blood spots and the bloody splashes in the marble wash basin were not found until nearly two weeks after the body was discovered.

A Miss Ashley of San Francisco has sued Lucky Baldwin for breach of promise and $50,000 damages for seduction. Baldwin is being raked over by the papers and Miss Ashley is getting a great deal of free advertising. Baldwin in answer to her complaint said that he was a married man and his character as a libertine had been well known for years, and the plaintiff also knew it, consequently she is entitled to no damages.

Any woman who would allow Baldwin to seduce her deserves neither sympathy nor damages.

She was playing the old gentleman for money as many other women have. She thought that she was a trifle smarter than others who had failed, and now finds that she must go down like the balance. Her fate, however, will not deter venturesome maidens from making the attempt to corral some of his millions with their personal charms. They deserve all the money they can get no doubt, but what all of them have succeeded in accumulating so far, would not keep a canary bird in grub through a hard winter.

Baldwin can always be found at his hotel during business hours-Next.
